

STRETTON SUGWAS BEE

Newsletter – Friday 10th November 2017

Happy Birthday to Oliver J. Murray D. Hunter G. & Rachel B.

Dear Parents and Guardians

We have had a fantastic week at Stretton this week. All of the children have taken some time out to reflect on those soldiers who have honoured our country and died in battle over the many wars. Hopefully everyone can appreciate our Remembrance display of stain glass poppies on the hall windows. The school will be laying a wreath as part of Stretton Sugwas' remembrance service on Sunday, please do come and join us. More information overleaf. We do seem to be having to remind parents and children of some of the school rules more recently. Particularly with dropping off; playing on the school equipment at the start and end of the day; coming onto the playground etc. Please do take notice of the rules, the majority haven't changed. We really don't like to whinge and moan!

Have a great weekend,
Alex Davies

'Stained Glass Poppies'

Each of our classes has been busy this week making these beautiful poppies for our Remembrance display in the hall to honour those fallen service men and women that we think of on Remembrance Day.

Remembrance Service – Sunday 12th November

Mr. Davies will be attending the Remembrance Day service at Stretton Sugwas church on Sunday morning.

If anybody would like to join him you would be very welcome. The morning begins at the monument in the village at 9.20 am for laying of the poppy wreaths, followed by a service in the church.

Important Reminder

May we remind parents that children must not come on to the school playground to play in the mornings before 8.40 am. There are no staff out there before this time to supervise the children and pupils are not insured to be in school before this time unless they are attending Breakfast Club. This also includes the adventure playground area.
