

STRETTON SUGWAS BEE

Newsletter – Friday 1st February 2019

Happy Birthday to....
Ruby W.

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Wow...what a week! Thank you to all the careful parents this morning and to all the staff out on duty making sure children were safely at school today. Already the playground is looking clear and ready for pick up time. As hopefully you all know we had our Ofsted inspection this week. Unfortunately we are not allowed to inform you of the results until it is officially published by Ofsted. Thank you to the parents who spoke to the inspector and also the children who demonstrated the wonderful things that happen at Stretton. However my main thanks goes to the dedicated staff who always work for the best of each and every child at this fantastic school. The inspector even commented that a child said, "The staff care about us."

Thank you again, have a relaxing weekend...I know I will!

Snow much Fun!

Despite the disappointment that many children probably felt this morning at the lack of snow many of them have been able to still enjoy a little fun in the snow that did fall on the playground.

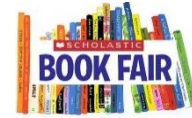

Bumble Bees class even held their phonics session outside, using the snow to practise writing their new sounds!

E-Safety and Age –Appropriate Games

We would kindly like to remind all parents and carers to promote safe behaviour online. Despite having regular e-safety sessions, there have been a few reports recently of pupils being unsafe/ inappropriate online at home. Please ensure that your children are supervised and only play on age-appropriate apps.

Further to this, there have been reports of children watching inappropriate films at home on Youtube. Please help us to keep children safe by observing age-ratings on games and films. Thank you.

Thank you to everyone that visited the book fair during the last week. The fair made £437 which means that the school will now benefit from £437 worth of free books for the school library!
