

STRETTON SUGWAS BEE

Newsletter – Friday 26th January 2018

Happy Birthday to Bethan Waite & Kira Mosely

Dear Parents and Guardians

We have had a fairly quiet (normal) week at Stretton this week. What has been particularly impressive is the number of parent helpers we now have around the school. Not only doing a fantastic job of listening to readers (which has huge benefits to individuals where we would struggle to find the time) but also playing the piano in assembly, running interventions and helping out in class. The support given by you, as parents, is huge and the benefit to the children and always has an impact. We currently have 13 parent helpers, which is amazing! The staff and children can't thank you enough for giving up your time and making Stretton the special place it is...one big supportive, hard-working and happy community!

Kindest regards,

Alex Davies

Scholastic Book Fair

The last 2 days of the book fair will be Tuesday 30th and Wednesday 31st!

Don't forget to come and take a look...the more books that are bought by parents and children, means more books for the school!

Thank you

Homework

Well done to all the children who work really hard on their homework projects. Across Phase 1 and 2, children take real pride in their homework and thoroughly enjoy bringing it in. There is always a range of arty artifacts or research based writing which shows off the enthusiasm the children have for the great topics that are covered in class.

We are putting out an early warning for World Book Day! Children will be allowed to dress up as their favourite book character.

There's plenty of time to be as creative as you like!
